Jay,
You (1) close the dispute with Paypal (I need confirmation from Paypal Dispute Dept.) and (2) leave me positive feedback, I will refund all your money. I will leave you (3) positive feedback.

Yes, I will refund the $40.44

I know we have better things to do with out lives, than deal with this. Lets just get this thing behind us.

Wu,

I bet you think you are slick. American express just declined my chargeback.

Now I find out that you filed the claim for the damaged shipment. I bet you think I am going to ship this back on my dime after you ripped me off on shipping and then didn't give shit about how you packed it.

I also bet you think you are going to keep the insurance payout too.

You are so wrong on all counts.

Forget your 2 options below. They are unacceptable.

If you want this smashed POS back, you will send me a shipping label and you can have it back.

I want 100% of my money back or I will stop at nothing to get your paypal account closed and your ebay account shutdown.

I will also add you, your name-address and phone number to every ebay ripoff website I can find, including mine.

You are not in any position to dictate terms.

| Jay,

You got two options:

1. Keep the item, and I refund the shipping of $34.94, this product is still on working condition.

You need to leave positive feedback before the refund is given. I will leave positive feedback as well.

or

2. File your claim with Paypal, and you will be paying to return the item, and you will not get a refund until the item is received. (These are Paypal rules)

Option #1 is cheaper for you - and settles this transaction today.

I just got the laptop today. I guess because I made a little noise you decided that you would disregard any concern for the safe shipping of this laptop. Either that of you just wanted to maximize your ripoff shipping profit.

Naturally, the laptop did not survive. I don't know what you were thinking just throwing it in a box with no packing at all.

Don't tell me to start a claim with FedEx. I feel any claim will be denied once they see your crappy packing job.

I am sending some pictures...

At this point I want a 100% refund. I am willing to accept another 550CDT if you have one and can pack and ship it CORRECTLY. Otherwise I will only be satisfied with a complete and total refund.
